Last week’s program:

The Indiana Youth Institute President and CEO, Bill Stanczykiewicz, spoke to the club on 19 August. The organization's motto is "Serving Those Who Work with Youth." Its goals include nurturing development and enriching lives, providing information, training and capacity building, and parent and community involvement.

In his address Bill pointed out statistical evidence that was not overly positive about youth in Wayne County, likening troubled students to structures which have had portions of their foundations removed.

He stressed that his organization exists to present statistical evidence about Indiana's youth, for, according to the speaker, numbers speak for themselves, thus making IYI a data deliverer.

Most revealing in his talk were statistics that show Wayne County has a higher percentage of children living in poverty and a lower rate of high school graduation than Indiana as a whole. This is revealed in the higher than state average of students obtaining free and reduced lunches, out-of-wedlock births, and teen birth rate, which stands at sixty per cent for Wayne County vs forty-three percent statewide.

He added, however, that more out-of-wedlock births occur to couples in their twenties, not teenagers.

Bill concluded with the following remarks regarding poverty: to stay out of poverty, there are three steps that need to be taken and adhered to: 1. get a high school diploma, 2. get a steady job and 3. delay parenthood until after marriage. Jlk

Beijing club accommodates Rotary Olympic goers - Rotary International News -- 21 August 2008

After the Chinese wushu team invited Bernardo Garcia to train with them for the Wushu Tournament Beijing 2008, the Argentine Rotaract club member and the Rotary Club of La Rioja, La Rioja, Argentina, reached out to Beijing Rotarians for support.

Garcia didn't receive financial support from the government of Argentina because wushu, a full-contact sport derived from traditional Chinese martial arts, isn't an official Olympic sport; it is a recognized International Olympic Committee competition.

Not wanting to waste a great opportunity, he raised enough money to make the trip to Beijing. However, finding accommodations during the Olympic Games is no small feat.

Nidia Acuña, president of the La Rioja club, contacted Gilbert Van Kerckhove, a member of the Rotary Club of Beijing, to see if he could help Garcia upon his arrival. Van Kerckhove, an investment promotion adviser for the Office for Beijing Olympics 2008 Projects, came through with the gold, finding a hotel room for Garcia.

"Obviously, these are hectic times in Beijing," said Van Kerckhove. "But our club is good at arranging logistics, and we managed to find a low-cost hotel that was close to transportation."

"Van Kerckhove and the Beijing club were a great help," said Acuña. "I really appreciate the importance of an organization like Rotary, which made it possible for two different cultures to come together in order to help an athlete like Garcia fulfill a dream."

The Beijing club also found a five-star hotel for the Belgian Olympic Committee and helped Rotarians traveling abroad get competition tickets. The club hosts a hospitality cocktail hour for visiting Rotarians every Thursday evening at the Hilton Beijing during the Olympic Games.

THE FOUR WAY TEST:

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it BUILD GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?
